Holmes of the Decatur team in the scores registered by the individuals in the bowling circuits last night. In his first contest Holmes toppled only 111 of the maples, but in the following two boosted that figure considerably. In his second game Holmes rolled for a count of 126, and then knocked down 121 of the pins in the third. The total for the three performances was 358. The Decatur five took two out of its three games with the Cliftons. The General Baking Company was a three-time victor over the Judd & Det-weiler outfit. Duckett of the winners was high man, with scores of 112, 114 and 109, the total being 335. The Southwestern League contest between the Resolutes and Excelsiors resulted in a victory for the former, that club winning two of the contests. Fowler, rolling for the Resolutes, got the best scores registered by the players in the match, his counts being 111, 107 and 120. The scores of last night's matches fol-low:

Discusses Players With Tinker. Weiss Disposed Of.

CHICAGO, January 6. - Charles Weeghman, purchaser of the Chicago National League base ball club, returned home from Cincinnati yesterday and immediately went into a conerence with Manager Joseph Tinker. "Intil we can decide on our players and see what we can acquire in exchange we will have no list of names to give out," Mr. Weeghman said. "We will have a lot of players to dispose of before long. The minor leagues are eager for men, desiring to revive interest by getting hold of stars."

The first player to be formally re-leased because of purchase of the Chi-cago Nationals by Mr. Weeghman was Joseph Weiss, who played first base several times last season for the Chi-cago Federals. Weiss was transferred to the Minneapolis American Associa-tion club tion club.

Weeghman and Tinker remained in conference much of the day, deciding what players should be placed on the what players should be placed on the waiver list.

It was announced that the final meeting of the Federal League would be held January 12 at New York, and that the schedule meeting of the National League will be held in the same city January 14.

Cole never reached the pitching form in New York that he showed in Chicago, although he developed flashes of his old-time speed and curve at times. Last season Cole was informed, after a medical examination, that he had internal trouble, necessitating an operation. He was out of the game the greater part of the summer, and it was not until the pennant race was more than a half completed that he returned to the mound. The records show he worked in but ten games during 1915, allowing an average of 3.17 earned runs per game.

More than one organized base ball owner wishes he had a long-term Fed-eral League contract for some book to assume.

and clean up any business left over from last season.

One of the most important subjects to come up is the decision to withdraw the base ball suit from the court of Judge Landis. It was believed that this action would be taken as soon as Weeghman acquired the Cubs and the peace compact was signed, but that is not so. According to the new president of the Cubs, every owner who was connected with the Federal League last season will have to attach his name to a letter of consent giving the league's attorneys the right to withdraw the case.

As soon as this is done in New York Wednesday the Federal League's attorneys will be advised to withdraw the case that caused so much comment around the country.

NEW YORK, January 7.—From the 6,000 annual rounds played over the Whitemarsh Country Club course, at Philadelphia, to the 600,000 rounds supposed to have been played in a single year on a public course at Jackson Park, in Chicago, is a far stretch, but, according to the caddle figures given out recently by the Philadelphia golf clubs, there is more chance for the boys on private links that have only a tenth part of the number of golfers that throng over the public courses. At the public courses in the various of the season and the proposed to the caddle figures given to the caddle for the round of the links varies between what the caddles themselves call "a big thick half" and a crisp bill, depending on the generosity of the players.
